

AFTER suffering defeats at the hands of Willamette University, 33 to 14, and the University of California Ramblers, 13 to 0, the Marines came back strong last Saturday at Vallejo, California to prove the old adage that the third time is the charm by defeating the Fairfield-Suisun Army Air Station, 14 to 12.

The Leathernecks showed great improvement on both offensive and defensive play and if last Saturday's game is any indication we should see some above-par football here on Modoc field yet this season.

Coach Major Clyde Roberts is still scouting around the Marine Barracks for new material, and in last week's game he uncovered a new find in the person of Mahan, No. 9, who proved very valuable in the Marines first win of the season. In the line, Capt. Robert Byrne, No. 16, one of the mainstays in the Marines forward wall all season, gave a good account of himself. Joseph Fiore, No. 10, and the always dependable Capt. James Higgins, No. 25, showed up well at the tackle positions.

Vince LaPaglia, No. 40, fullback, played a stellar game on both offense and defense and if an injury he sustained earlier in the season doesn't keep him on the sidelines too often, he should show up well for the remainder of the season.

At the present time the Marines have three games remaining on their schedule, all to be played on Modoc field. Camp Beale, October 20, 8 p.m.; Coast Guard Receiving Station, November 4, 2 p.m.; Fairfield-Suisun Army Air Station, November 18, 2 p.m.

Through Sloughs And to 6-6 The With Coast Guard Pilots

By PAUL HAINES

The San Francisco Coast Guard Pilots steered a straight course to the goal line of the Klamath marine football eleven midway through the final period of a hotly contested game Saturday afternoon on rainswept Modoc field to tie the Leathernecks, 6-6.

A crowd of 2500 shivering fans saw Bancer flip a short pass to Dravin, right end, in the late stages of the third frame for a touchdown that put the marines out in front, 6-0.

With Tunnell, star negro half-back chartering the course, the coast guard eleven came fighting back in the fourth quarter and sailed to the Leatherneck nine before the tide was turned aside. Nothing daunted, the Pilots again came flashing back and a pass, Tunnell to Richardson, was good for 18 yards and a first down on the Leatherneck 23. From there Tunnell swept his own right end and knifed down the sidelines for the touchdown that dethroned the game. Roberts' attempted placekick was wide and low.

Tunnell took a terrific pounding from the marine forward wall during the game and collapsed in the end zone from exhaustion after he had scored and was assisted to the dressing room. The colored boy carried the ball three-quarters of the time while he was in there, and played a fine outstanding game.

The coast guardsmen threatened seriously in the first minutes of the third period on a drive that carried them to within the marine 10-yard line, but Gelber fumbled at this point and Hughes recovered for the Leathernecks on the two. Hughes then booted a beauty from deep in the end zone that carried 65 yards to the Pilots' 35 and carried the marines out of immediate danger with it.

One outstanding feature of the tilt was the punting of both elevens. The wet, slippery ball didn't seem to hinder Senter, Pilot right end, or Hughes, Bancer or Mahan. These four grid-ders handled the kicking assignments and all got off some splendid punts.

The soggy, slippery condition of the field was a greater handicap to the Pilots than the marines, as their attack depended greatly on speed and passing. Tunnell is a speed merchant but has a lot of drive and was able to rip off some nice gains despite the wet gridiron.

Roberts, guard, and Romano, tackle, turned in fine defensive jobs for the coast guard, as did Westrum at left end.

For the Leathernecks, Byrne, Darnell and Higgins played exceptional ball in the forward wall and LaPaglia, Hughes, and Bancer rang the bell in the marine backfield.

In the last period, Mahan had a perfect chance to intercept one of Tunnell's passes and continue for a touchdown gallop as there was nobody between him and the Pilot goal line, but the wet ball eluded his grasp and it was just another incompleting pass.

The marine eleven really stopped the highly vaunted Pilots upon all except three occasions, one when they scored and twice when they threatened. The two major threats were stopped short of the goal line, however, and the boys from the barracks and Major Clyde Roberts, marine coach, deserve a lot of credit. Grid fans who attended the tilt saw a wet, but well played ball game.

The game was strictly a last half affair as the first two periods developed into a kicking duel between the two elevens. A lot of good football was played Saturday afternoon and the next, and probably final game of the season for the marines is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, November 12, when the Fairfield-Suisun Skymasters play a return tilt with the Leathernecks on Modoc field.

Summary:

First Quarter

Chapin kicked off to Tunnell who returned to the Pilot 20. The coast guard rolled up a first down to their 32 but were forced to kick on the next series of downs. Senter booted to Albritton on his own 20 and he returned to the 32. The ball exchanged hands several times, with neither side able to gain an advantage, and the initial period ended with the ball in the Pilots' possession on their own 21.

Second Quarter

The second stanza was much the same story, with both elevens exchanging punts in an effort to force a break. No first downs were made by either team throughout the period, but on the last play, Tunnell hurled a pass to Westrum for a 10-yard gain, only to have him fumble and the marines recovered on their own 42 as the gun barked the end of the half.

Third Quarter

Roberts kicked off to Chance on the 10 and he brought it up to the 24. The Leathernecks failed to gain and Hughes was forced to kick to Tunnell, who returned to his own 44. A pass and a run by Tunnell gave the Pilots a first down on the marine 33. Gelber made 7 and then picked up 9 more for another first down on the 17.

Tunnell drove through for 8 yards to the marine 9, but on the next play Gelber fumbled after having gone to the 2, and Hughes recovered for the Leathernecks to stave off the score.

Two running plays failed to gain and Hughes launched a beautiful kick that was downed by Darnell on the Pilot 35. The Leathernecks held and Senter booted to Bancer, who brought it up to his 29.

LaPaglia went over tackle for 25 yards to the Pilot 46. With the aid of a penalty and two plunges by LaPaglia, the Leathernecks rolled up another first down. Another penalty put the ball on the coast guard 29 and Bancer picked up 6 to the 23 and a first down. Two running plays netted three yards and then Bancer passed to Dravin for 8 yards and another first down on the 12.

Bancer drove through for three and the Pilots were given a penalty half the distance to the goal, putting the oval on about the 4-yard stripe. Two plays failed to pick up any yardage, but on fourth down, Bancer ploughed through for a first down on the 2. Bancer lost a yard and then faded back to rifle a short pass to Dravin in the flat for the touchdown. Bancer's plunge for the extra point failed. SCORE: MARINES 6, COAST GUARD 0.

and he ran back to his 38 as the third period ended.

Fourth Quarter

The Pilots were made of stern stuff and rolled up two successive first downs in rapid order with Tunnell and Gelber handling the leather to put the ball on the marine 30.

Two plays picked up 7 yards and Tunnell lanced through once more for 8 and a first down on the Leatherneck 15. On two plays Tunnell made it to the 9, but on third down dropped 4 yards. On the last down, Tunnell made a valliant effort, but the marine forward wall rose up to stop him on the 12 and take the ball over on downs.

Mahan quick-kicked to Tunnell on the midfield stripe and the speedy colored boy to the marine 40. At this point, Mahan had his chance for a pass interception that would have almost undoubtedly resulted in a touchdown, but the ball got away from him.

Tunnell heaved to Richardson for a first down on the 23. Another pass was incomplete and then Tunnell swept around his right end and knifed down the sidelines for a touchdown, collapsing in the end zone. Roberts' placekick was no good. SCORE: MARINES 6, COAST GUARD 6.

The final minutes saw both elevens strive desperately to connect with a pay-dirt aerial, to no avail, and the gun sounded with the ball in the Pilots' possession on about the midfield stripe.

From Midfield

By PAUL HAINES

The Klamath Marines are all set to tee off against the Fairfield-Suisun Skymasters on Modoc field Sunday afternoon. A victory for the Leathernecks will bring them up to three wins, two losses and a tie in the season's grid ledger.

So far this season the Marines have scored a total of 42 points in five games against 64 tallied by the opposition. More than half the points scored against the Leathernecks were rolled up in the first game by Willamette, Simmons and Co. This organization trampled the boys from the barracks, 33-14.

Two length-of-the-field touch-down gallops were registered against the Leathernecks from within the opposition's own five yard stripe, one an even 100-yard dash as a result of a pop-up fumble, and the other good for 98 yards on a pass interception.

The longest touchdown dash by the Marines was an 83-yard run by Albritton on a pass interception against Willamette in the closing minutes of the contest.

In the individual points scored column LaPaglia leads with 12, followed by Mahan, Albritton, Fadgen and Dravin with 6 and Bancor and Currie with one apiece on extra point conversions against the Skymasters at Vallejo.

LaPaglia is the most consistent ground gainer with an average of a little better than three yards per try and Bancor accounted for the most yards from rushing in any one game with 102 against the Camp Beale Bears. Last Saturday's game with the Pilots was the first time the Marines have been able to score by the aerial route. The nod for this feat goes to Dravin, right end, who snagged Bancor's pass in the end zone for the Leathernecks only counter of the day.

The barracks boys are showing marked improvement with every added fray and this till will be no exception. The shooting will start at 2 p. m. and tickets are now on sale at the chamber of commerce.

Let's all turn out to see a

Marines Play Final Tilt Sunday

Leathernecks to Be At Full Strength For Return Battle With Fairfield-Suisun Team

In the last game of the season on Sunday, November 12, the fans of the marine gridiron team will have an opportunity to see the Leathernecks and the Fairfield-Suisun air base tangle in what promises to be as thrilling a struggle as their last encounter in Vallejo, Calif. The Marines defeated the Skymasters in that game, 14 to 12. The kickoff for Sunday's game is scheduled for 2 p. m.

The Skymasters' team is built around two top backs, both of whom are triple threats, Elmon Sasse, 190-pound flash, and Monk Myers, former Xavier star. These two men have two capable pass receivers in Wade and Dansby. It was these boys who scored the two touchdowns against the Marines in their last game, Wade on a long pass from Sasse, and Dansby on a 98-yard run after a pass interception.

The Marines will go into the game at full strength and Coach Roberts is confident that his eleven will measure up to their previous victory.

Dravin and Darnell will most likely be Roberts' choice to start at ends. Dravin is the most consistent pass receiver and will probably team with Bancor, ace halfback, to provide the margin of victory.

At tackles will be Fiore and Taylor, at guards, Byrne and O'Connor, and center, Golden, rounding out the Marines' probable starting forward wall. All the Marine backfield men are in top shape. Mahan has been bothered with a bad wrist and foot in the last two tilts, but has fully recovered and will be ready to aid Bancor with the tailback chores. La Paglia, who is the Marines' most consistent ground-gaining back, and Fadgen can go in top form at full. Currie and Albritton will alternate at blocking back, and Jack Walters will probably open the game at right half.

Fairfield-Suisun is noted for its spectacular plays and Coach Roberts has warned his men to be on the lookout for a game opening long pass or some other unorthodox play.

A capacity crowd is expected to this gridiron finale. Tickets for reserved seats are on sale at the chamber of commerce office.

Marines Defeated 13-0 By California Ramblers

Visitors Strike in First and Final Quarters to Blast Leatherneck Hopes

By PAUL HAINES

The California Ramblers from Berkeley, lived up to their moniker Saturday afternoon at Modoc field by rambling over the Leathernecks from the Marine Barracks in a loose ball game, 13-0, before a crowd of 2000 fans. The Ramblers struck once in the first period and again in the final frame to annex enough points to capture the title.

Snook, Rambler quarterback, was the big noise for the Califor-times in the second stanza, with Edmonston accounting for two consecutive first downs for the Ramblers in four plays. The Californians then fumbled but the marines bogged down and were forced to kick. Syvall connected with two passes, one good for 21 yards and the other adding 20 more, before the Leathernecks could stop the drive and the half ended with the ball in the hands of the California eleven on the midfield stripe.

Third Quarter

LeRond kicked off to Chapin to start the second half, but there was a fumble on the play and the Ramblers recovered on the Leatherneck 42. After a couple of Rambler penalties, interspersed with long running gains, Edmonston galloped 19 yards for a California first down on the marine 21. The marines held at his point and took the ball over on downs. Hughes smashed through for 10 and a first down and followed up on the next play with another 10-yard drive for two first downs in two plays. Fadden made 2 and Hughes added 4. Fadden bulled his way through for 5 and another first down and it began to look as if the marines were really going to get rolling, but two plays later, Snook intercepted Fadden's aerial and the Leatherneck threat was stopped.

The ball again changed hands and LeRond booted a nice kick for the Ramblers that was downed on the marine 10-yard stripe. The Leathernecks failed to gain and Roy Walters kicked to Sheppard, who was downed on the marine 31. The Ramblers made it a first down on the 20 and Snook threw a pass to Gray, good for 12 yards and a first down on the 8. Three attempts netted 7 yards and the quarter ended with the ball resting on the 1 yard line.

Fourth Quarter

On fourth down, Snook took the ball on a quick opening quarterback sneak and ploughed over for a touchdown by inches. Gray's dropkick for the extra point was good. SCORE: RAMBLERS 13, MARINES 0.

The ball shifted hands twice and then the marines rolled up a first down with Hughes picking up 6 and LaPaglia passing to Albritton for 8. The Leathernecks were forced to kick and Hughes punted out-of-bounds on the Cal 12. The Ramblers kicked back after two plays and the marines tried desperately to connect with some aerials as the clock ticked off the final minutes, but the attempt failed and the ball went over to the Californians on downs. Raucel cut through for 13 yards and a first down and the ball was on the Cal 40 as the gun barked the end of the game with the count, 13-0 - the Ramblers side of the ledger.

Edmonston showed up well along with Snook for the Ramblers, and Albritton turned in a capable performance with Hughes for the marines. The boys are coming out every game and more really hit the jack one.

The Ramblers made another touchdown when Sheppard intercepted Fadden's pass in the last quarter and dashed unmolested into the end zone, but the play was called back by Referee Hunt Clark, as there was a penalty on the Californians for holding.

Hughes played a good game in the marine backfield and Byrne and Dravin were outstanding in the forward wall. The loss of Higgins was sorely felt but the stellar tackle has had a recurrence of malaria and was naturally not able to participate in the fray.

First Quarter

LeRond kicked off for the Ramblers and the ball went out-of-bounds and was brought up to the 35-yard line where the marines took over. After two plays, Fadden fumbled and Purcell recovered for the Ramblers. Edmonston went around his own right end for 18 yards and a first down. Edmonston picked up 9 more and Martin made it another first down. Martin passed to Gray for 19 yards and a third first down on the Leatherneck 9. The marines dug in and took the ball on downs on the 6-yard line.

Neither eleven was able to gain an advantage, with the ball changing hands several times, until half-way through the quarter. Roy Walters kicked to Snook on the midfield stripe and he ran to the marine 44. Edmonston took a lateral from Snook and traveled around his own left end for 30 yards and a first down on the 14. Three plays went for naught but on last down Snook rifled a pass to Gray for the 14 yards and a touchdown. Johnson's attempted conversion was no good. SCORE: RAMBLERS 6, MARINES 0. Fadden broke loose with a 14-yard dash for the only sizable gain before the quarter ended with the ball in the possession of the Ramblers on their 46.

Leatherneck Eleven owns Camp Beale Bear to Take Second Victor of Season

Paced by Frankie Bancer, who personally gained a total of 102 yards, the Leathernecks steamrolled the Camp Beale Bears last night on Modoc field, 8 to 0.

Superb play by the marine line held the army backs to 58 yards from scrimmage, and bottled up the highly-touted Camp Beale speed-merchant, Herman Deterville, so that the colored halfback ran for a total of minus 11 yards.

The marines had a few individual stars, as the entire team rushed and pushed the Bears all over the field, throwing the army eleven for losses on nine different occasions.

Coach Roberts had two complete teams at his disposal, and neither had much edge over the other last night. In the back-field, Mahan, Albritton, Fadgen and Chance started the game. When they began to tire, Bancer, LaPaglia, Roy Walters and Currie came in.

Here are the highlights of last night's action:

Acting Captain Walter Apt won the toss for the marines and picked the south goal. Chapin got off a bad kick to Morgan on the 28, and the Bear end returned to the 41.

Stopped cold, Feldatt punted to Albritton, and the marine quarterback brought the ball six yards to his own 32. Then, with Fadgen, Mahan and Hughes carrying, the marines drove to the Bears' 17 before losing the ball on downs. After being thrown for two losses, Feldatt, on the fourth down with 27 to go, got off a nice punt to Bancer on the marine 33.

Bancer and LaPaglia, alternating, moved all the way down the field again to the Bear 3, before LaPaglia fumbled and the Bears recovered. Feldatt kicked out on the 38. Then Bancer and LaPaglia took over, carrying down to the Bears' 2, where LaPaglia went over for the score. Currie's kick was wide, and the score stood:

Marines 6, Camp Beale 0

Darnell kicked off to Deterville on the 3 and the speedy halfback came back to the 22. Two plays netted the Bears a 13-yard loss. Feldatt's punt was blocked by Byrne and Fiore, who were in on him before he had a chance, and the oval bounded high over the end zone, giving the marines an automatic

ed. After a first down, the marine forward wall held the Bear on downs. Running from Feldatt punted to Albritton on the 10. Fadgen and Mahan carried the ball to the 38 before Mahan was forced to punt.

He kicked a beauty out of bounds in the coffin corner. The Bears punted out of danger to Bancer in mid-field. On the third down Bancer flipped a pass to Dravin, good for 18. On the next play Bancer fumbled and the Bears recovered. After losing 13 yards trying to dent the marines' line, Feldatt's punt was blocked by Higgins on the 15 and the marines took over. Before the Bears could get set, Bancer ripped off the necessary yardage and crossed the goal carrying Deterville on his back. But the play was nullified by a marine holding penalty. Three plays later the Bears were set back 15 for clipping, and Currie tried a field goal which was no good.

The ball on their own 20, Feldatt flipped a pass to Morgan for 16, and two plays later threw one to Deterville for 26 to the marine 36. Currie intercepted the next aerial on the 27 and was immediately tackled. Mastrorilli quick-kicked to the Bears' 40.

On the third down, Knox flipped a pass to Morgan who was away in the clear. Mastrorilli ran him down and dropped him on the 7, after a 63-yard gain. The Leatherneck line dug in and held for four plays, right down to within inches of the where the marines took over on downs. Running from the end zone, the marines carried the ball to the 38 before game ended.

Then, with Fadgen, Mahan and Hughes carrying, the marines drove to the Bears' 17 before losing the ball on downs. After being thrown for two losses, Feldatt, on the fourth down with 27 to go, got off a nice punt to Bancor on the marine 33.

Bancor and LaPaglia, alternating, moved all the way down the field again to the Bear 3, before LaPaglia fumbled and the Bears recovered. Feldatt kicked out on the 38. Then Bancor and LaPaglia took over, carrying down to the Bears' 2, where LaPaglia went over for the score. Currie's kick was wide, and the score stood:

Darnell kicked off to Deterville on the 3 and the speedy halfback came back to the 22. Two plays netted the Bears a 13-yard loss. Feldatt's punt was blocked by Byrne and Fiore, who were in on him before he had a chance, and the oval bounded high over the end zone, giving the marines an automatic safety.

Score:

The Bears started to roll a few moments later. Deterville returned Mahan's punt 13 yards to his own 16. Reginato gained 26 yards to the 42. Then Feldatt, on a spinner, hit center for 15. An offside penalty and two runs netted another first down for the Bears, but Bancor intercepted Reginato's pass to break up the threat.

On the next Leatherneck play Bancor broke through the secondary for 25 yards. A five yard penalty, Bancor's run for 11 and LaPaglia's line smash for four put the ball on the Bears' 18. Bancor, on a fast-breaking play off tackle picked up the 18, but the play was called back and the marines penalized 15 for clipping. The ball went to the Bears on the 36. Bancor intercepted another Feldatt pass, and made 11 from scrimmage as the half ended.

English fumbled the kickoff and the Bears recovered. A holding penalty forced Reginato to punt to Albritton, who fumbled and recovered on his 20. The Bear line held, and Mahan punted to the Bears' 32.

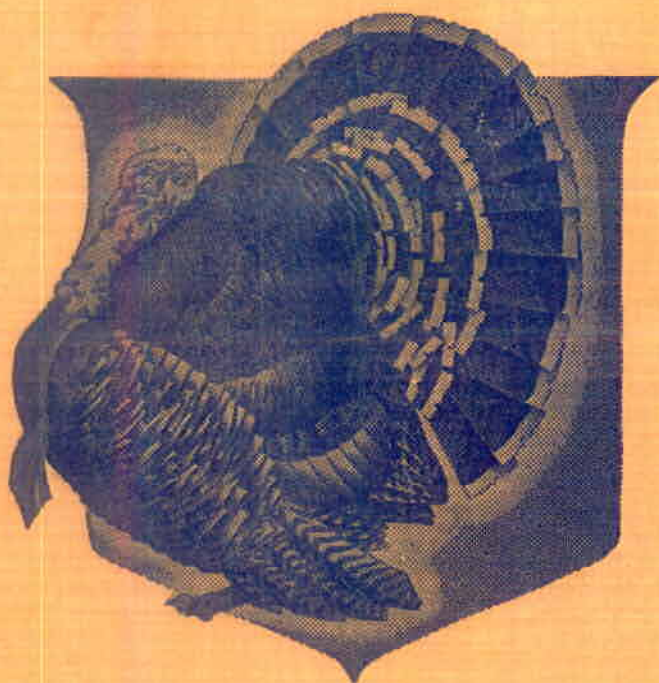

The army boys picked up 11, then missed a pass to Deterville behind the marine secondary, and Reginato gained 11 more before he was hit hard and fumbled and Byrne recovered.

Mahan's fourth down punt went to Deterville on the 12, who slipped the ball to Reginato, who was stopped on the 28, but the Bears were offside and the marines kept the ball, first and ten.

A pass, Mahan to Fadgen, was complete for 7, but Fadgen fumbled, and the Bears recover-
